

SPECIALIZING IN END-TO-END TRIAL MOVES AND SET-UP

At Quick, we know how much time and research goes into preparing for a trial. And we understand that once the trial begins, you need all the information you've gathered at your fingertips – whether your War Room is across town or across the country. That's why we offer full logistics services for trial moves and set-ups that go well beyond simply delivering boxes. We will work with you to pick up your trial documents and other materials from anywhere – even if that includes several locations – and deliver them directly to you wherever you are. We can even lease and ship legal carts for you to use during the trial. Specifically, our specialized team of legal experts is available around-the-clock, offering you:

- > Pick up and delivery from anywhere, to anywhere in the world 24/7/365 – even late nights, weekends and holidays
- > Pre-arranged trial moves, shipping by air or truck for the most cost effective solution
- > Comprehensive services, moving document boxes, IT and graphic equipment, suitcases and wardrobe boxes, legal carts, personal effects, office supplies and more
- > Dedicated vehicles so your materials travel together, ensuring maximum security and confidentiality
- > Complete trial set-up services based on your specifications including shelving document boxes, arranging them by client reference number or in numbered order, or separating them by name and custodial order and more
- > Custom billing on a per project basis
- > State-of-the-art tracking services so we can monitor each shipment every step of the way
- > Automatic proof of delivery via the Web, phone, fax or email

Since 1981, Quick has been providing many of the world's leading law firms with shipping solutions tailored to meet their individual needs. Our legal services team is simply the best at what they do. Their in-depth knowledge of your business is combined with the most reliable shipping solutions available in the industry – enabling us to move your trial materials quickly and cost-effectively while ensuring the utmost security.

Whether you are shipping document boxes and office supplies, IT and graphic equipment, or suitcases and personal effects – only Quick can offer you the full range of trial set-up services you need to make sure everything is in place when the trial date arrives.
